Hello Librarians!
Message from the President

I hope this message finds you all well! It was so wonderful to see and visit with many of you in beautiful Ruidoso for this year’s annual conference! Although the Convention Center was being renovated, I think that those who attended truly enjoyed the speakers Dr. Camila Alire and Vaunda Nelson, programs, exhibits and the opportunity to interact and exchange ideas with like-minded individuals who really care about libraries. The conference theme: Evolve, Enrich, Empower: Libraries Transform! was very appropriate for these difficult times. Now more than ever, it is important for us to share our stories and ideas and provide support and encouragement for each other. I hope that you will continue to be strong advocates for libraries in your own libraries and communities. If you are not already a member of a committee or Special Interest Group (SIG) and would like to become involved please do not hesitate to contact me. I look forward to hearing your ideas, questions and comments! Also, please make plans to attend mini-conference in Gallup on October 14th and 15th and don’t forget to take advantage of the grant opportunities from the Education Committee.

Barbara Lovato-Gassman
NMLA President

Congratulations to the 2010 Award Winners!

Legislation News: What If Bond B Does Not Pass?

By Joe Sabatini, Co-Chair, NMLA Legislation Committee

It could happen. You can hear it in your communities. Throw out all of the incumbent politicians. Government is the problem. Stop spending my tax money on stuff I don’t want. I can’t afford an increase in my property tax. (Bond B will cost a taxpayer thirty two cents per year for ten years per $100,000 of property valuation.)

In 2008, our margin of victory was only 30,740. Bond Issue B won with a 52.2% positive margin, a decline of 4.6% from our margin in 2006. There will be fewer voters participating. Even with highly competitive races for Governor and U.S. Congress, there will not be the enthusiasm of a Presidential race. Many first time voters mobilized in 2008 may be disillusioned non-participants in 2010.

With local and institutional budgets being reduced virtually everywhere in New Mexico, is there any library in the state which has not suffered substantial cuts in their local media budget? Our patrons expect and depend upon us to provide current materials. We are already less able to meet their needs than before. Without the additional money from the Bond, our ability to provide current materials will be meager indeed. And, once we are unsuccessful in getting voter approval of a bond issue, it will be much harder to convince the Legislature that libraries should be included in future bond package. Successfully passing Bond B sends the message to local and institutional officials that voters are willing to support libraries as an essential service in their communities, schools and colleges.

The Bonds for Libraries Political Action Committee (PAC) has been meeting to plan a campaign to support Bond B. We received good support from donations and NALSIG Silent Auction proceedings at the NMLA Conference in Ruidoso. When ALA President Camila Alire spoke about frontline advocacy, she acknowledged the activities of our PAC in providing the campaign resources to accomplish our goal. And yet the PAC has not received the level of contributions to fund the kind of campaign that will be needed. It will be up to librarians and their supporters to bring the message to voters in each community.

To that end, the PAC will be working with the Cooney-Watson PR firm to produce a CD with an English- and a Spanish-language version of a radio spot. Copies of this CD will be mailed to each public and academic library director, with a request that they work together with community supporters to purchase placement of the spot on their local stations. In addition, the kit will contain examples of the media available for downloading from the PAC website. Additional bumper strips are available, to be distributed at selected meetings and to Friends groups. We continue to explore ways to use blogs and social networks to reach new audiences. We are conscious of the need to have these materials available in advance of the beginning of early/absentee voting on October 7th.
Legislation News: What if Bond B Doesn’t Pass?
How You Can Help Get the Message Out

Check the PAC website at http://www.bondsforlibraries.org/. Additional information is available on our Facebook page, www.tinyurl.com/bonds4libraries and our Twitter page, http://twitter.com/bonds4libraries. Information will be posted to this site about distribution amounts, tax rates, etc.

Contact the PAC with your ideas and questions at contactus@bondsforlibraries.org.

Set a date for a meeting in your community for librarians and library supporters from all types of libraries to organize a local campaign. Identify the financial needs and resources available to support that campaign. The PAC can advise you about strategies for placing radio and newspaper ads, op-ed pieces and general interest news stories.

Get bumper strips from the PAC and put them on your cars. Ask your friends and relatives to do so. Bumper strips will be seen by hundreds or even thousands of voters between now and the election, but only if they are on car bumpers. A driver who sees a bumper strip on two different cars will notice a trend. Three different cars and it’s a landslide. Contact the PAC for bumper strips, as well as bookmarks and brochures.

Be creative in getting out the word about your library’s impact on your community, and the need for support. Every staff member can present this message in his/her own way.

In Katrina’s Wake shows how Katrina first grew from a seemingly-routine Category One hurricane in Florida into a behemoth storm in the Gulf of Mexico, bringing more than 150 miles per hour winds and large swells of water upon hundreds of thousands of people. It struck Louisiana and Mississippi somewhat diminished in strength, but it flooded 80% of the city of New Orleans as levees failed, and flattened buildings and structures in Mississippi. More than 1,800 individuals were killed, and many more were incapacitated.

Boehm obtained his master of arts degree in history from New Mexico State University in 1997. He worked in the NMSU Library’s Archives and Special Collections Department from 2000 to 2006, and then accepted a position as an archivist for the National Guard Bureau. He presently works as an historian for the Bureau, organizing state histories from units serving in Iraq and Afghanistan, researching and writing historical reports and conducting oral history projects to support National Guard activity.

In Katrina’s Wake is available at the NMSU Library and at other libraries and bookstores nationwide. For more information, visit the Library’s online catalog at http://lib.nmsu.edu or email Boehm at bill.boehm@us.army.mil.

a. AASL – Alison Almquist

The AASL Affiliate Assembly requested that the AASL Board of Directors select a title for its professionals that "is clear to other educators, administrators, and the public, and that the presents a common nomenclature for all publications and advocacy efforts." After much discussion about the advantages and disadvantages of various titles the board voted to adopt the professional title School Librarian. One of the board members I had a chance to talk with at ALA midwinter said teacher librarian lost out because there were not enough sites in the US that used the term teacher librarian.

Sara Kelly Johns the Library Media Specialist at Lake Placid Middle/High School is a candidate for ALA president-elect. She is the also the Associate Editor for Knowledge Quest. Ann Dutton Ewbank and Carl Harvey are the candidates for AASL President.

School Library Media month is celebrated in April. The 2010 theme will be "Communities Thrive @ your library." Every Wednesday in April at 7:00 p.m. CST AASL will host webinars based on AASL’s Empowering Learners: Guidelines for School Library Media Programs.

c. NMLF – Barbara VanDongen

The following is an outline of the New Mexico Library Foundation’s work to raise funds and provide grants to libraries in New Mexico during 2009.

Regular NMLF grants in amounts between $500 and $1000 were awarded during 2009 to Tularosa Public Library, Gila Valley Public Library, Donnelly Library at NM Highlands University, El Camino Real de Tierra Association (CARTA)-- NMSU, Deming High School Library, Montevista Elementary School Library (Albuquerque), the New Mexico Coalition for Literacy and the Truchas Public Library. Joint NMLF-Libri grants of $350 each were awarded to El Rito Public Library, Gila Valley Public Library, David F. Cargo El Valle de Anton Chico Library, Estancia Public Library and Placitas Public Library.

The NMLF sponsored a number of fundraising activities during 2009: A raffle at the NMLA annual conference in Albuquerque in April 2009 and a raffle at the NMLA Hobbs mini-conference in Hobbs in October 2009, a raffle and silent auction at the LOEX conference in Albuquerque in April, and a donor appreciation event November 21 “Breakfast at Supper” at the Flying Star on 8th St in downtown Albuquerque.

The Foundation did three major mailings during 2009 to approximately 800 recipients each time: a letter in May and one in November soliciting donations and a newsletter in September reporting NMLF activities.

The New Mexico Library Foundation participated in three collaborative efforts with other organizations to support libraries in New Mexico: 1) completing the NMLA’s Advocacy for School Libraries SIG sponsorship of the Nancy Ebeling Memorial project to place sets of Land of Enchantment award books in NM college libraries for use of teacher education programs, 2) providing a vehicle for the Nancy Floyd Haworth Foundation to offer grants to nine NM public libraries in 2009 for the purchase of breast cancer materials and 3) working with NM Tribal Libraries on their 2nd annual silent/live auction and dinner held in October 2009 to provide additional funding for participating tribal libraries.

NMLF’s total income in 2009 was $11,756.53 of which $7657 was from donations and $3896 from fundraising. Essentially the Board met our goal of $12,000 for 2009.

The New Mexico Library Foundation is maintaining a website for public access at www.nm-lf.org and a wiki for NMLF records and NMLF Board action at nmlf.pbworks.com.

5. Committee Chair Recognitions

6. Committee Reports

a. Awards – Norice Lee

The Awards Committee has been busy the past few months seeking nominations for the 2010 Annual Awards Event that will take place on Thursday evening, April 8th, at the Inn of the Mountain Gods. Ultimately five names were forwarded to the Board for approval—one name for each award category. Many thanks to Barbara Edwards (Committee member), the Board, and the Local Arrangement Committee, for their assistance with the overall program.

The following individuals will be honored at the Dinner: Honorary Life Membership Award: Betty Long for her long-term leadership and service to the Association. I received numerous nominations and letters of support on behalf of Betty for this, our most prestigious award.

Library Amigo: Mike Andrews for his commitment to the Roswell Friends of the Library

Community Achievement: Carol Sarath, Library Media Coordinator in the Gallup-McKinley School District, who has served as Co-chair of the NM Task Force for School Libraries for over 6 years; an active member of the Library GO Bond Steering Committee, and former NMLA Board Member Legislator of the Year: Joni Marie Gutierrez - House Representative for District 33 – Las Cruces/Dona Ana County, for her support of public education and on-going support of Library GO bond funding. While in office, she has co-sponsored a large capital outlay request for Thomas Branigan Public Library in Las Cruces, and has also co-sponsored several Durango and Zacatecas historical records microfilm projects for NMSU Library Archives.

Library Leadership: Janice Kowemy for being the organizational force behind the Native American Libraries Special Interest Group (NALSIG), and service as an advocate and leader for the advancement of tribal libraries in our State.

As seems to be NMLA tradition, Nambe was purchased for the award recipients:
Nambe = $558.50
Engraving = $175.25Total = $733.75

Total budgeted = $750.00

In addition, the following school and individuals will be honored:

Outstanding School Library: Camino Real Middle School in Las Cruces and Teacher-Librarian, Ruth Wallis

Marion Dorroh Scholarship: Samantha Villa, University of North Texas ($1,500)

College Scholarships: Rebecca Correa-Elliott, Doña Ana Community College ($250); Luci Ortiz, New Mexico State University ($1,000), and Audrey Pino, Doña Ana Community College ($250)

The Awards Committee Chair has recently assumed the position of NMLA Treasurer, so a new Chair will need to be appointed for 2011.

b. Bylaws – Cassandra Osterloh

Both Bylaws changes were accepted.

c. Conference Site – Tina Glatz

d. Education – Sharon Jenkins

For this our final report for the fiscal year, we have a good bit of activity to report – at least on the deliberations end of things. We had a total of four applicants for the Marion Dorroh award this year and, as usual it was difficult to come up with a finalist. However, we persevered and, like the civilized and conscientious group that we are, came up with one name. Our Marion Dorroh winner this year is earning her MLS at the University of North Texas in Denton and will use the $1,500.00 to continue her education there. She has been a resident of New Mexico for 27 years and currently works at a public library.

We had three applicants for NMLA College scholarship funds. We decided to divide the total amount among the three of them. Since two were repeat applicants, they received $250 each. The third recipient was a first time applicant and so was awarded $1000.00. While there is nothing in our charge or NMLA bylaws to prohibit awarding funds to applicants who have had previous awards, we felt that this was a fair and reasonable solution.

We have also had five applicants for NMLA continuing education grants this year. The first four applicants were awarded $200.00 each. The fifth application had just been received prior to the writing of this report so a final vote has not been taken as to whether or not to award funds to this applicant.

Below is the current financial situation of the Education Committee:

The Education Committee chair attended the winter NMLA board meeting and participated in activities of Library Legislative day in Santa Fe during late January.

f. Legislation – Joe Sabatini, Cynthia Shetter

The Board adopted the following work plan for the Committee this year. Under each point is a summary of our activities:

Committee/stakeholder meetings were held on May 29th in Albuquerque, on August 16th in Los Lunas, and on September 19th in Belen. The PAC met on August 20th in Bernalillo, November 13th and December 4th in Albuquerque, and January 6th, February 24th and March 31st in Bernalillo to plan strategy for the legislative and election campaigns. Cynthia Shetter and Karen McPheeters worked within the New Mexico Municipal League and its Librarians Section to gain a resolution supporting the inclusion of a library bond issue. The Legislature did include a $7 million Library General Obligation Bond Issue on the November Ballot.

2. Rebuild a network of local activists who can support and seek funding for the Political Action Committee advocating the Bond Issue.

The PAC worked with Linda Morgan Davis, Louis Lafrado, Kevin Unrath, Rachel Altobelli and Dan Kammer to set up Facebook and Twitter accounts and links to the NMLA Website. These are media we can use to get out information on the bond campaign.

3. Support the retention of the State Library budget line item which provides increased levels of state grants-in-aid funding. Continue to work for the increase in this program.

Given the budget situation, the apparent retention of the state aid program budget at near its 2008-09 FY level was a major achievement.

Joe attended the ASLSIG workshop in Belen on September 19th to discuss bond issue strategy. Omar Durant and Pam Rishel put together a presentation for the Legislative Education Study Committee on December 16th about the bond issue and the School Libraries Materials Fund, with statements by Cynthia Shetter and Ruben Aragon in support of the bond issue. Although no money was budgeted, the group did emphasize the need to fund it in the future. ASLSIG also worked with the Public Education Department to establish modern school library standards; the hearing on these regulations will be on April 9th.

5. Support efforts by the New Mexico Consortium of Academic Libraries for rational funding of academic library funding, including a realistic formula to address inflationary increases in resource budgets.

Joe attended the NMCAL meetings on August 6th and January 27th, and met with the NMCAL Legislation Committee on October 30th and on December 11th, to review Bond Issue developments.

6. Work in cooperation with the Native American Libraries SIG to address tribal library funding issues in response to the Indian Affairs Department’s House Memorial 59 report.
Joe attended NALSIG meetings and presented legislative updates on June 18th, October 15th, December 17th and February 18th. NALSIG also made an extended presentation to a meeting of the Interim Indian Affairs Committee on September 9th. On January 14th, a delegation of NALSIG leaders, Joe and Larry Horan met with Regis Pecos, Chief of Staff for House Speaker Ben Lujan, about the tribal libraries segment of the bond bill. The group successfully advocated the inclusion of building and planning funding in the tribal libraries segment of the bond language, and the allocation of a politically acceptable portion of the total bond funding.

7. Continue to fund an NMLA lobbyist.

Legislative advocate Larry Horan was active all year in working with committee members, legislators and legislative staff on developing and passing library bond legislation. He initiated a meeting with Rep. Ed Sandoval to obtain his sponsorship of the bill. He provided guidance to the Committee on timing, tactics and technical drafting issues.

Legislative Day was reasonably successful in spite of a snowstorm which prevented many library supporters from attending. The PAC staffed a table in the Rotunda for distribution of library information. Five librarians were presented on the dais in each chamber. In the Senate, five members spoke briefly about the importance of libraries. Over 80 library supporters wore gold PAC t-shirts supporting the bond issue.

9. Make presentations to the Legislative Finance Committee and the Legislative Education Study Committee about library needs statewide.

Joe Sabatini and David Giltrow were present and answered questions at the LFC capital outlay budget review on December 5th. When it was publicized that the staff G.O. Bond recommendation omitted a library bond, the library community responded with communications requesting its inclusion. This led to discussions between LFC analyst Linda Kehoe, the State Library, the DCA Legislative Liaison Ann Greene-Romig, and our legislative advocate Larry Horan on procedures for providing input to the LFC in advance of the preparation of their recommendations.

As noted above, a presentation was made to the LESC on December 16th.

Cynthia Shetter will be attending this event in conjunction with the American Library Association Annual Convention in Washington, D.C.
